

Mound Science and Energy Museum Association

presents

"Adena Indian Culture and the Great Mound of Miamisburg, Ohio"

John Warrington

(with the Miamisburg Historical Society)

April 27, 2022, 7:00 pm

Mound Cold War Discovery Center, 1075 Mound Road, Miamisburg, OH

John will discuss the rise of civilization from the Paleoindians through the Adena / Hopewell cultures that the Miamisburg Mound is attributed to. During the first portion of this presentation, he will highlight characteristics of their settlements, tools, cultivation techniques, burial customs and earthwork construction. The second part will be devoted to showing samples of artifacts that were collected by his late father, John Warrington, Sr., over a period of 40 years.

Speaker Biography: John is a lifelong resident of Miamisburg, Ohio. He earned B.A. and M.A. Ed. degrees in American and European history from Eastern Kentucky University. He also earned a library science degree from Wright State University in 1992. John was initially a classroom teacher at Franklin High School, and later a Audio-Visual Coordinator for Carlisle Local School District. He retired as the district Media Specialist in 2012, with a total of 32 years in education.

For additional details call 937-353-4457. The presentation is free and open to the public and has ample free parking.